SF01.2

We are eager to decide our own life. We are eager to participate in the whole process of creating our own life. We give users the experience they aspire to or desire to actively participate in. The process itself gives people a sense of satisfaction, which is far greater than the product itself.

SF02.3

Simple and smooth lines, neat modeling. What we throw away is the tedious carvings but adopt the standard modular design to make life more comfortable, deduce its own school of modern elegance.

SF03

The vivid color inspiration space brings a stronger visual impact, and the silent aesthetic intensions narrow the distance between art and office, give the texture of fashion life.

SF04

We always insist on innovation, the perfect fusion of design and quality conveys an elegant lifestyle, seeks cost-effective product experience for users, and leads the expression of artistic conception in office space.

SF05

Successful furniture is the result of endowing excellent ideas with beautiful shapes, which can well grasp people's spiritual and material realms, a sublimation of beauty.

SF06

We have been thinking about the relationship between furniture and space. Furniture should be one of the elements of space interpretation, rather than an independent individual. We try to look at the whole, so that the product can be perfectly integrated into the space.

SF07

When you are making PowerPoint, cows in New Zealand are enjoying the sunshine. When you're researching the report, couples in Miami are passionately kissing. When you are deciding who is enemy and who is friend backpackers in Tibet are freely breathing on the green land under the blue sky. Only by jumping out of the previous sky can we find a different life. Starting from a new sofa, create your own space and new office culture, get rid of traditional office thinking, and appreciate the business culture of the new era.

SF08

The minimalist style and simple and practical shape can be the face value of family time, and can also make you feel at home in the business space.

SF09

The backrest and armrest are designed to fit the human body, bringing a comfortable feeling of sitting. The interior and exterior tones match the overall shape to enhance the sense of layering and visual experience.

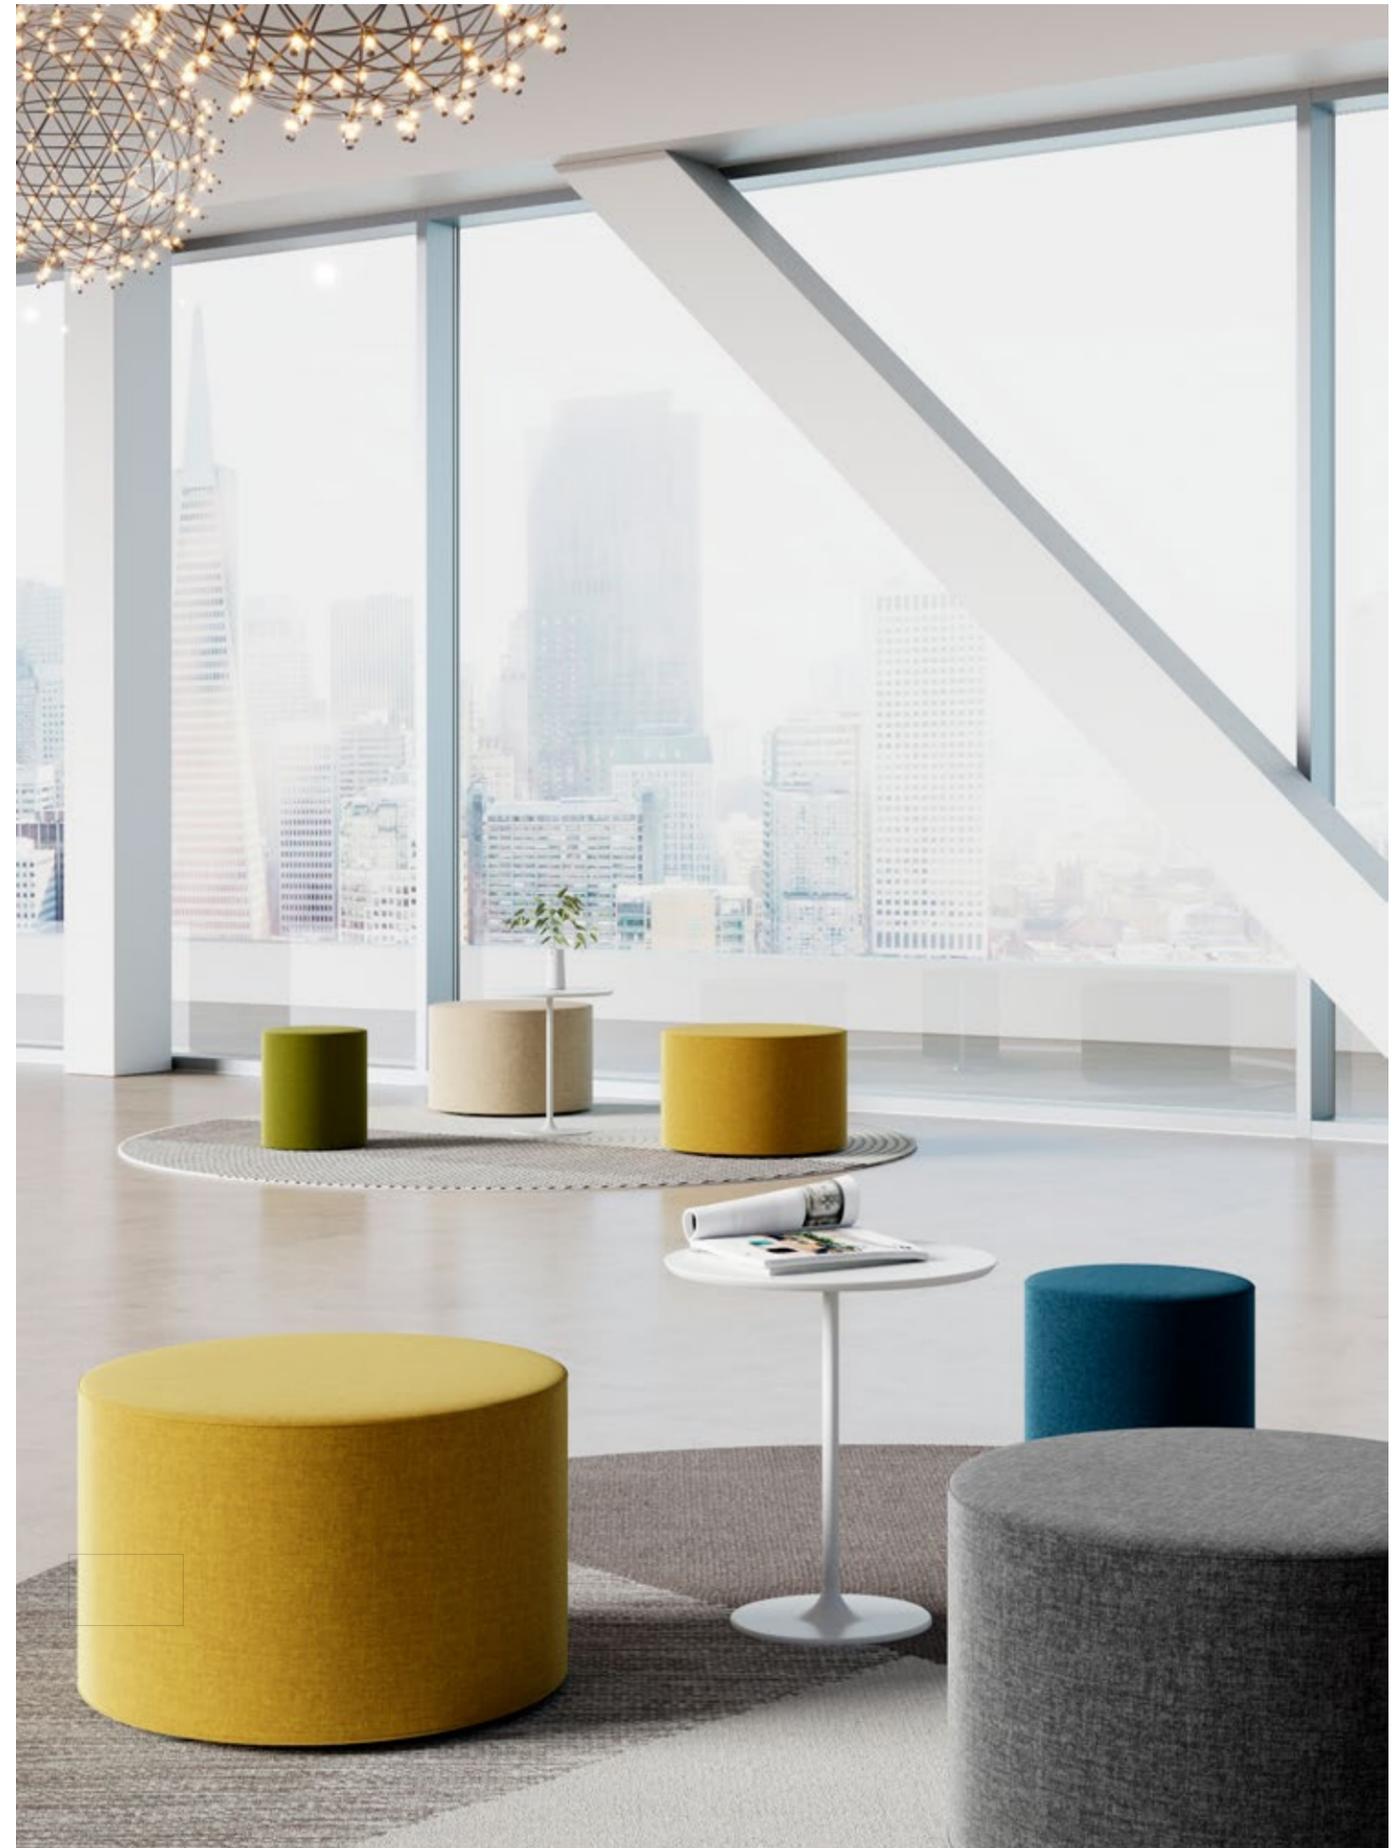

SF10

The rich and colorful combinations skillfully turn fragmented spaces into public use areas, allowing guests to have a stylish and comfortable waiting environment, also provide a free and happy working space for team members.

SF11

Various sizes to meet different needs. In the space it can not only interact with the whole room but also highlight the sense of independent existence.

SF14

The overall outline of the chair is warm and smooth, and each curve is carefully adjusted according to the curve of the human body, providing users with a comfortable seating experience.

SF15.3

The sofa arm and back are wrapped in soft cushion, giving a full sense of security. The incised corners and rounded corners of the edges are all elaborately designed details. The throw of the back fits the human body for a comfortable sitting feeling. This model can meet a variety of space requirements as office, leisure, entertainment, negotiation needs, It is a perfect matching product to have a collaborative crush with other office models.
